Dear Admiral Turner:

As a learned Society, the American Society of International Law is deeply interested in publications of our Government concerning the foreign relations of the United States and also in the publications of the United Nations. The Society's Committee on Publications of the Department of State and the United Nations each year issues a summary report of what has been published in the field.

The Society is particularly concerned with the timely publication of Foreign Relations of the United States. At its 74th Annual Meeting in late April, the Society passed a Resolution regarding the value of Foreign Relations and expressing concern regarding the gap between the period recorded and the actual publication of the record. The Resolution provides that the concerned persons and agencies in the U.S. Government be informed of the Society's interest in timely publication of Foreign Relations.

I therefore enclose herewith the Resolution adopted by the Society on April 28, 1979 together with the report of its Committee on Publications of the Department of State and United Nations. It is our earnest hope that the way can be paved to facilitate the dissemination of the information our scholars need.

Sincerely yours,

Seymour J. Rubin

Report of the Committee on Publications of the Department of State and the United Nations

United Nations

The following part of this report, except as otherwise indicated, relates to formal publications of the United Nations issued since 1 January 1979 and largely during the calendar year 1979. This means that in general only sales publications are covered, and not mere working documents of any UN organ or conference. In some instances, a preview is given of some publications on which work is progressing. The information here presented should be considered supplementary to that in the earlier reports, the comments in which are still applicable except as otherwise indicated herein.

1. GENERAL PUBLICATIONS: YEARBOOKS, REPERTORIES AND RESOLUTIONS

1. The United Nations Juridical Yearbook 1977 (ST/LEG/SER.C/15; Sales No. E.79.V.1) was issued.

2. The United Nations Yearbook 1976 (Volume 30) (Sales No. E.78.I.1) was issued in 1979. The effort to make this publication more current - pursuant to part I of General Assembly resolution 31/208 - has not yet borne fruit.

3. The next supplement of the Repertoire of the Practice of the Security Council covering 1972-1974 is to be published in the spring of 1980.

4. A Table of Contents and Subject Index to Supplements Nos. 1-3 to the Repertory of Practice of United Nations Organs was published in 1979 (Sales No. E.79.V.2). At least Volume I (Articles 1-54) of Supplement No. 4 (1 September 1966 to 31 December 1969) is expected to be issued during 1980.

5. The Report of the Secretary-General on the Work of the Organization issued in September 1979 (GAOR, 34th Session, Suppl. No. 1, A/34/1), was as brief as that submitted in 1978 (see para. I.4 of this Committee's 1979 Report).

6. The ninth edition of Everyone's United Nations (A Handbook on the United Nations, its structure and Activities) (E.79.I.5), providing in a well-indexed 477 pages a most useful compendium of information about the United Nations and the agencies related to it, was issued during 1979.

II. TREATIES

1. The first monthly Statement of Treaties and International Agreements Registered or Filed and Recorded with the Secretary-General issued during 1979 covered April 1976 (ST/LEG/SER.A/350) and the last one Dec. 1976 (ST/LEG/SER.A/358). Thus the backlog of this publication has now increased to three years -- though the rate of increase has finally slowed down.

2. Multilateral Treaties in Respect of Which the Secretary-General Performs Depositary Functions: List of Signatures, Ratifications, Accessions, etc. as at 31 December 1978 (ST/LEG/SER.D/12; Sales No. E.79.V.7) was issued in April 1979, and covered a total of 288 United Nations and 44 League of Nations treaties.

3. During 1979, only 7 volumes (the lowest number yet) of the UN Treaty Series were issued, bringing the total number published by the end of that year to 855. In a report to the General Assembly (A/34/466), the Secretary-General indicated that the annual accretion of registered treaty texts amounts at present to the equivalent of some 40 volumes, and that he hoped that, subject to the adoption of certain budgetary proposals he was making, the backlog could be stabilized at about 260 volumes (i.e. the equivalent of about 8.5 years of registrations). Elimination of the backlog would require special and heroic financial measures, which he proposed in a separate report (A/C.5/34/10) but which were not acted on by the Assembly.

4. No cumulative Index to the UN Treaty Series has been issued since the 1977 publication of No. 11, which had covered up to volume 750, including treaties registered to 21 September 1970.

III. CODIFICATION

1. Volume I of the Yearbook of the International Law Commission 1978, containing the Summary Records of the 30th session of the Commission, appeared in mid-1979 (A/CN.4/SER.A; Sales No. E.79.V.5). Volume II, Part One (A/CN.4/SER.A/1978/Add.1(Part I); Sales No. E.79.V.6(Part I)), containing the documents of the Commission's 30th session except its Report, is scheduled to appear in June 1980. Volume II, Part Two (A/CN.4/SER.A/1978 Add.1(Part 2); Sales No. E.79.V.6(Part II)), containing the Report of the Commission to the General Assembly (A/33/10), appeared in mid-1979.

2. The Report of the International Law Commission on the work of its 31st Session (GAOR, 34th session, Suppl. No. 10 (A/34/10)) appeared at the beginning of the 34th session of the General Assembly in a preliminary version, which will be reissued in printed form sometime in 1980 as Part Two of Volume II of the 1979 Yearbook of the Commission.

The Report included, inter alia, a full set of the draft articles on Succession of States in Respect of Matters other than Treaties, as well as newly adopted texts of and commentaries on draft Articles 28-32 on State Responsibility and draft Articles 39-60 (amendment and modification of Treaties; invalidity, termination and suspension of the operation of treaties) on Treaties concluded between States and International Organizations or between two or more International Organizations. Furthermore, the Report contained the results of a study of a working group of the ILC concerning the status of the diplomatic courier and the diplomatic bag not accompanied by diplomatic courier.

3. During 1979, Volumes II and III of the Official Records of the United Nations Conference on Succession of States in Respect of Treaties (A/CONF.80/16/Add.I, Sales No. E.79.V.9 (Volume II), A/CONF.80/16/Add.II, Sales No. E.79.V.10 (Volume III)) were published. Volume II contains the summary records of the 1978 session and Volume III sets out the documents of the Conference.

4. The third edition of the handbook The Work of the International Law Commission is still in process of preparation and further expansion, and is now scheduled to be issued during 1980.

5. Due to the transfer of the Trade Law Section of the UN Office of Legal Affairs to Vienna during 1979, no volumes of the Yearbook of the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law were published during that year.

6. The Report of UNCITRAL on the work of its 12th session (GAOR, 34th session, Suppl. No. 17 (A/34/17)), appeared during the 34th session of the General Assembly. It contained, inter alia, brief reports on its considerations of the draft UNCITRAL Conciliation Rules and of the possible legal aspects of the new international economic order.

IV. JUDICIAL

1. The 1979 volume of Reports of Judgements, Advisory Opinions and Orders of the International Court of Justice will contain certain procedural orders in respect of the Delimitation of the Continental Shelf (Tunisia/Libyan Arab Jamahiriya) and the order concerning the request for the indication of provisional measures in the case concerning United States Diplomatic and Consular Staff in Tehran (United States v. Iran).

2. The fifth volume of Judgements of the United Nations Administrative Tribunal (Judgment Nos. 167-230) has not been issued. Judgment numbers 237 to 252 appeared in mimeographed form.

V. MISCELLANEOUS

1. During 1979, Volume 3: 1978 of The United Nations Disarmament Yearbook (Sales No. E.79.IX.2) appeared. Like its predecessors it covers extensively the relevant developments relating to disarmament and arms control. Earlier in 1978, a Special Supplement to Volume 2: 1977 of the Disarmament Yearbook was published: Status of Multilateral Arms Regulation and Disarmament Agreements (Sales No. E.78.IX.2), containing the text of 9 protocols, treaties and conventions that deal with disarmament, and indicating the signatories and parties as of 21 March 1978.

2. A new periodical, Disarmament: A Periodic Review by the United Nations, is now appearing regularly twice a year, in May and October. Though only of limited legal interest, it is a source of up-to-date information about conferences and committees working in the field of disarmament and arms control.

3. A Volume IX of the Official Records of the Third UN Conference on the Law of the Sea appeared in March 1980 containing the records of meetings of the plenary and of committees during the 7th session and the related documents. (Volume X had appeared in 1978).

4. As part of a series of legal handbooks, the Economic Commission for Europe published, during 1979:

Don - In view of the "moratorium" on FRUS processing and my own extended absence from 20 May, I think it best that Batch #16 of the galley proofs be returned to CRD for central control.

Key Building

Because of preoccupation with higher priority work, it was only on 7 May that I could begin the review.

That review showed that State historians were intent on publishing CIA documents and information that had been given them in classified form for background use. Editorial Notes, further, reflected an unawareness of the limitations that CIA must apply to the proposed disclosure of CIA information.

These serious differences require resolution before we spend more time on Batch #16 or any other that has comparable, proposed disclosures.

To the extent that I went before realizing the futility of the task, I have made notes on the review worksheets.
